Neapolitan pizza is a traditional Italian pizza rooted in the 18th-century street food of Naples. It gained prominence in 1889 when Raffaele Esposito created the Pizza Margherita for Queen Margherita.

Authentic Neapolitan pizza adheres to specific guidelines regarding ingredients, preparation, and cooking methods. Typically cooked in a wood-fired oven at extremely high temperatures 400C to 450C for a short time.

Known for its soft, thin centre and a puffy, leopard-spotted outer ring called the cornicione and high-quality toppings, it typically features San Marzano tomatoes, fresh mozzarella (either buffalo mozzarella or fior di latte) and basil. Traditionally it is cooked in a wood-fired oven.
